FEATURES OF THIS SERIES

- Pieces are included from all five stylistic periods—some by well-known composers and others by less familiar composers.
- General stylistic information is given for each period, as well as specific points for each piece.
- Pieces are arranged in approximate order of difficulty within each period.
- Dennis Alexander has composed one piece for each period, showing that a modern composer can take the traits from any period and compose in that style.
- A glossary explains selected words from the text.
- Concise biographies of all composers are presented.
